BECKY FAST HONORED AS "SOCIAL WORKER OF THE YEAR" BY KANSAS CHAPTER OF THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF SOCIAL WORKERS

HON. DENNIS MOORE

OF KANSAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 22, 2009

Mr. MOORE of Kansas. Madam Speaker, since I took office in January, 1999, Becky Fast has worked as my constituent services director. My office has prided itself on a high level of constituent services, and for that Becky deserves much of the credit. I am proud and happy to announce that last Thursday, Becky was honored as "Social Worker of the Year" by the Kansas Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers. Vicki Arnett, LSCSW and the Chair of the Chapter LINC committee presented the award at the 62nd MoKan Clinical Institute in Overland Park (Ritz Charles) on Thursday, October 8, 2009. The Kansas Chapter, National Association of Social Workers represents the practice and profession of social work in Kansas. The event was a two day intensive training on familial sexual abuse with Michael Boniello, LSCSW and difficult ethical problems in social work with Frederic Reamer, Ph.D., of Rhode Island.

Although I was in Washington for scheduled votes, I was pleased to learn that Becky's father drove from Minnesota to Kansas to see her receive the award. I want to take this opportunity to congratulate Becky, and am honored to enter into the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD the remarks made by Vicki Arnett when she introduced Becky as the recipient of the 2009 Kansas Chapter of the National Association of Social Work "Social Worker of the Year":

Becky Fast originally was trained as a teacher. Through that work she found that many students and their families needed individual assistance through difficult circumstances. Becky went back to school and became a social worker. Since then, she has been working in different capacities to help improve services to many individuals. Her early work has included authoring several chapters in a book on serving the aged population as well as service manuals to implement such programs. She taught social policy for many years and helped bring attention to the importance of everyday advocacy in the political arena.

Becky practices Political Social Work. She has been the Director of Constituent Services for Congressman Dennis Moore since his victory in 1998. She is one of just a few social workers across the country to hold such a position. She has built the constituents program with a focus on applying social work values and skills to assisting people calling for help with federal programs. Her program serves as a model for other congressional offices and Becky willingly shares her knowledge. Over the years, Becky has mentored many social work interns and taught them the importance of listening to caller concerns and responding in a helpful way. She is constantly making connections to individuals and the community by establishing access to the Congressman and helping to suggest ways to solve problems.

Becky has taken advantage of her ability to connect to people to promote social workers and the profession. For example, she had several conversations with then Governor Sebelius and they spoke about social work and delivering care to people. She was able to mention social work to President Clinton, and she facilitated a meeting with the Attorney General on social work safety. Many of the current Kansas State legislators keep social work on their mind because of Becky talking to them.

Most recently, after physical threats to the congressional office, and the town hall meetings had to be canceled for safety reasons, she was still preparing materials and was generous in giving time and attention to people expressing anger and frustration. She does not lose her cool in such situations. Becky was instrumental in securing federal funding to support the Teri Mathis Zenner Safety First conference in October. Becky was one of the original presenters for Dr. Nancy Humphreys Campaign School in Connecticut.

Becky has served as the Kansas Chapter, PACE Chair for several election cycles, served as the Treasurer on the Chapter Board of Directors and now serves as the Region Ten Representative on the National Board of Directors of NASW. She serves on a variety of committees and work groups and in the Kansas City area. Becky is well known across Kansas and everyone knows she is a social worker because she proudly states, "I am a social worker" as she does her work. Congratulations Becky for a well-earned and well-deserved recognition of the excellence you bring to the social work profession.

HONORING DR. JOHN WATERSHON. DALE E. KILDEE

OF MICHIGAN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 22, 2009

Mr. KILDEE. Madam Speaker, I rise today to honor Dr. John Waters as he steps down as the President of the Genesee County Medical Society. Dr. Waters will be honored at the annual Presidents' Ball on November 7th in Grand Blanc, Michigan.

Dr. Waters became interested in a medical career at the age of 7. He was injured in an automobile accident and was hospitalized for a long time. Because of the care and compassion of his hometown physician, Dr. Waters decided to become a doctor. He earned a B.A. in psychology and a B.S. in biology from Quincy College. After graduating from Northwestern University Medical School he completed his residency at the University of Louisville, Department of Ophthalmology.

In addition to his medical practice at Complete Eye Care, he is a principal in the Surgery Center. Active in the community, Dr. Waters treats patients through the Genesee County Free Medical Clinic and works with the Greater Flint Health Coalition. He has provided free glaucoma and diabetic eye screenings in conjunction with FACED's Diabetic Sunday at area churches. He participated in Cover the Uninsured Week and Complete Eye Care received the "Community Caring Award" from Health Access.

Involved with the Genesee County Medical Society, he has served on the Board since 2000 and is a member of the Finance Committee. He also serves as part of the Genesee County delegation to the Michigan State Medical Society House of Delegates. His philosophy about being a doctor is: "I went into medicine because of what someone did for me. We who are physicians should do the same for our patients. If we do what is right for them everything will fall into place for us." Dr. Waters and his wife, Meg, have two children, JT and Elizabeth.

Madam Speaker, I ask the House of Representatives to join me in applauding Dr. John Waters. I commend him for his dedication to treating and healing his patients and I wish him many, many more years working for better health in our community.

INTRODUCTION OF THE OSTEOPOROSIS EARLY DETECTION AND PREVENTION ACT OF 2009

HON. CAROLYN B. MALONEY

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 22, 2009

Mrs. MALONEY. Madam Speaker, today I am reintroducing bipartisan legislation, the Osteoporosis Early Detection and Prevention Act of 2009, along with my friend and colleague from West Virginia, Congresswoman SHELLEY MOORE CAPITO.

The Osteoporosis Early Detection and Prevention Act of 2009 will require private insurance plans to cover bone density testing for individuals most likely to develop osteoporosis. This bill will ensure that the individuals most likely to develop the disease will have access to screening tests, which could both improve health outcomes and save significant amounts of money.

Forty-four million Americans either suffer from osteoporosis or are at risk of developing it. One of every two American women and one of four American men, aged 50 or older, will suffer a bone fracture because of osteoporosis. This means that osteoporosis causes 1.5 million broken bones every year.

Osteoporosis has no symptoms and cannot be detected by an ordinary X-ray until 25 to 40 percent of bone mass has already been lost. As bone mass decreases, the risk of fractures increases exponentially. The disease is usually not diagnosed until a fracture occurs—but
